ENDED AT LAST.

Cessation of the Hostilities at Chicago.

St. Paul and Fort Wayne Roads Resume To-Day.

Now the Great Burlington Boycott Was Raised—General Managers and Railroad Workers Reason Together and Decide That They Better Not Be the Trouble—No Blacklisting to Be Done and "Q" Freight Hereafter Will Be Handled Without Discrimination.

CHICAGO, April 4.—General Manager Jeffrey, of the Illinois Central road, said to a reporter this morning: "I promised the men that in the event of the failure of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy strike, none of the men would be blacklisted by my company."

"I told them that my influence would be used with the managers of other roads towards the same result. Because a man had made a mistake in one instance was no cause why he should be blacklisted. I am opposed to blacklisting; bitterly opposed to it."

"I outlined the hardships which a boycott would impose upon the lumbermen—men who were not responsible in any way for the conditions which had brought on the strike. The men showed the kindest appreciation, and greeted me warmly when I had finished my talk. I left the hall, and drove to the office of General Manager McCrea, of the Pennsylvania lines. He promised to restore his men to their former positions."

"General Superintendent Clark telegraphed the situation to General Manager Miller, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and I have received a telegram from Mr. Miller, stating that, in behalf of the interests of all concerned, he is willing and glad to do all in his power to end the struggle."

"The outcome is an evidence of the strong sense of the workmen."

CHICAGO, April 4.—10 A. M.—When the appointed time came this morning for the cessation of the strike on the St. Paul, all hands—firemen, engineers and switchmen—presented themselves for duty, and the usual course of things as far as the Milwaukee and St. Paul Company is concerned was resumed at once.

At the Fort Wayne yards there was a hitch and the strike on that road continued.

The engineers and firemen were ready to carry out the understanding, but the switchmen objected.

At 9 A. M., however, everything was satisfactorily arranged, and the great Burlington boycott was apparently everywhere at an end.

Everything but perishable goods is being loaded, unless, of course, the goods are of the road will have to refuse all western freight.

Each Side Feels Trouble.

The Arbitration Committee of the Central Labor Union is still engaged in visiting the boss brewers with a view towards obtaining a recognition of their employees' unions. The committee will report to-night at a meeting jointly with the officers of the American Federation of Labor and the Brewery Workmen's union. The association between the two unions is being looked for a lockout. One brewer is said to have agreed to treat as much money to live on.

Splendid Game Between Byrnes's Ball Tossers.

People Flock to the First Game at Washington Park.

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 27.—The handsome new maroon and white club pennant of the Brooklyn Baseball Club floated proudly over the grand stand at Washington Park for the first time this afternoon.

The occasion was the first game of the season between two sides selected from the sixteen members of the club, reinforced by O'Flynn, of the Nassau, and old "Lip" Pike, the veteran centre-fielder of the Atlantic City team.

Old "Lip" had done his best, but that best was not sufficient to put the grounds in proper shape. The slight sod gave a deceptive appearance of dryness which did not exist. The left of the diamond and the left field was a veritable quagmire, and the backstop was not exactly killed-dried.

The players were:

Terry, pitcher; Caruthers, catcher; Bushong, first base; McClellan, second base; McDuff, third base; Foutz, short stop; Holbert, left field; Hughes, right field; Pike, centre field; Byrnes, manager.

Terry captured one team and Caruthers the other.

It was a complimentary game, and the baseball enthusiasts of Brooklyn took advantage of the free show, turning out en masse, covering the bleaching boards and occupying every available seat in the grand stand.

There was a good sprinkling of ladies, the first to arrive being the handsome little wife of Second Baseman Radford.

Manager McGunigle was enthusiastic when speaking of the condition of his men. "They have had constant practice at the handball court, and are well limbered up. All they need is a little work at the bat," he said.

Caruthers's team, attired in gray suits, were the first to appear for practice at 3 o'clock, and they were greeted with tumultuous applause.

Their practice work showed them up to good advantage, Foutz defending bag one after the most approved fashion, while the infelding of Peeples, Holbert and Radford boded ill to Terry's team, the "Whites."

These latter appeared a quarter of an hour later and took the field for practice, the result of which proved them not a whit the inferior of their opponents.

Umpire Ferguson called the game promptly on time, the Whites taking the field with Terry in the box and little Radford at the bat. A low one to Smith resulted in his death at first.

Caruthers got on to his opponent's curves very handsly, and reached second on a high one to left-field, reaching third on a wild pitch.

Foutz bunted a little one towards right base, which he made and stole second while Caruthers was being put out at the plate. A passed ball carried him to third, where he died, Peeples going out on a high fly to O'Brien at left field.

For the Whites, Pinking got in position over the plate to bang one of Caruthers's corkers, which he did, but was put out by an assist from Radford to Foutz.

McClellan fouled out to Foutz.

Then stalwart Dave Orr hit for a bag over second base.

O'Brien fanned twice three times and left Orr on first.

Second Inning—Silch hit to Terry, who was attempting to steal second.

The veteran Pike hit a hard one to second for a base. Then came a pretty double play—Hughes hit to McClellan; Pike was forced out at second and Hughes met his fate at first.

For the Whites, Terry batted a hot one directly into Caruthers's hands, after being given a life by Foutz's muff of a foul fly. Smith scraped the sky for centre, but old Pike was there when the ball dropped. Clark went out on a foul fly gobbled by Caruthers.

Third Inning—Holbert struck out. Bushong hit for a single over second. Radford popped up to McClellan and Caruthers fouled out to Clark, leaving Bushong on first.

Mays came to the bat for the Whites and failed to hit Caruthers. O'Flynn met a similar fate and Pinking fared no better.

Fourth Inning—Foutz made first on a wild pitch which he struck at and reached second on another.

Peeples took first on balls. Silch's base to centre brought Foutz home and carried Peeples to second.

Pike flew out to Mays and Peeples was caught in attempting to take third on the hit. Hughes flew out to Smith.

McClellan tapped the plate and tried to uphold the honor of the Whites. He died on a short grounder to first.

Dave Orr hit hard for a base between second and short, and O'Brien followed with another to right field on which Orr attempted to reach home by the help of a scow, between first and second. Orr was caught at the plate and O'Brien, though he made a good slide at third, was touched out.

Fifth Inning—Holbert came confidently to the bat, hit hard for two bags and got third on a passed ball.

Bushong hit an easy one to first and was retired. Radford hit for his base and passed Holbert home, taking second on a batted ball.

Caruthers brought Radford home by a hit near the foul line in left field, but was retired himself in an attempt to reach second.

Foutz caught the fever and hit the sphere for one bag, but was left by Peeples going out on an assist by Smith to Orr.

The score now stood 3 to 0, with an inning for the Whites to catch up.

Caruthers smilingly danced about in the box and resumed his puzzling delivery.

Terry batted a fly which was neatly cradled by Radford. Smith struck out. Clark went out on a fly to Peeples, and no score had yet been made by the Whites.

Silch got first on error of Terry. Pike flew out to Pinking at third, while Hughes hit the ball to left for a base.

Clark popped up a fly, which was captured by Mays, and Hughes was thrown out at first, leaving Silch on second.

Peeples went into the box for the Grays. Hughes catching him, Clark took Holbert's place at short. Bushong went to third and Caruthers to left field.

Mays went out on fly to Silch and O'Flynn at first by the assistance of Radford. Pinking retired the side by fanning three times.

Seventh Inning—Bushong hit for a single over short and took third on a passed ball. Radford took first on balls, but was thrown out in attempting to steal second. Caruthers was knocked out by a wild pitch on the knee, and Radford took the base to run for him. He too, was thrown out by a splendid put out of Holbert's to McClellan. Foutz flew out to Pinking.

For the Whites McClellan flew out to Radford at second; Orr batted the ball for a single in right field and reached second on a muffed throw by Radford.

O'Brien flew out to Caruthers in the left field. Orr stole to third and reached home on a passed ball, scoring the first run for the Whites, which was tumultuously acknowledged by the crowd. Terry struck out and the inning was ended.

In the eighth inning neither scored. The Grays did not score in the ninth. The Whites made one.

JUMP FOR LIFE.

Thrilling Spectacle at a Bull Fight—Eighteen Lives Lost in a Fire Panic.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 4.—The two Republics has this telegram dated Celaya at 5 P. M. yesterday:

Sunday afternoon at about 4.45 o'clock the bull ring was crowded with spectators of the great national sport.

The company of bull-fighters from Leon was still paying with the first bull when a fire suddenly broke out on the sunny side of the plaza.

A panic seized upon the vast assemblage and a frightful spectacle was the result.

The plaza was constructed of wooden masts, reeds, etc., and it was due to this fact that a majority of the people escaped without injury, being able to force an opening permitting an exit at different points.

But many women and children jumped from the top, a distance of 200 to 300 feet and over a hundred of them were seriously wounded.

Eighteen lives were lost.

The sides of the plaza, being lined with matting as dry as tinder, and there being a slight wind blowing, the amphitheatre was in a blaze in a few seconds.

Nine dead bodies, in some cases so charred as to be unrecognizable, have so far been taken from the smoking ruins.

Nine persons were so badly burned that they died yesterday.

This makes eighteen deaths in all up to to-day.

Sixty-eight persons were very badly burned, and though they still live at least ten of them will die.

Fifty persons in escaping were knocked down and trampled upon by the panic-stricken throng and are very seriously, but not fatal, injured.

The bulls, maddened by the roaring of the flames, broke loose from their stalls and rushed wildly through the surging mass of humanity, tossing aloft and knocking over all who stood in their way.

Among the eighteen dead were two women who were gored to death by the bulls and the last victim of the fire.

Several persons lost their reason from the severe mental shocks to which they were subjected.

The fire was incendiary.

In the Celaya Jail were a number of prisoners—army deserters, etc.—who had obtained permission from the authorities to attend the bull fight. They were accompanied by a guard of soldiers to prevent their escape, but one of the deserters struck a match and lighted one of the dry masts, and in an instant the sunny side of the ring was ablaze.

In the confusion and excitement the prisoners succeeded in making good their escape, taking their chances to effect their end.

The best society of Celaya was in attendance. It was Easter Sunday, the return of the season of gayety after Lent, and there was an unusually large number of ladies and children present, and these, as often in the case in such events, were the sufferers.

No man lost his life.

It is the saddest tragedy that has ever occurred in the three centuries of this city's history.
